Response to Request for Reconsideration

This is in response to a request for reconsideration file June 16th, 2003. Claims 1-20 are being reconsidered in this action.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's request, see paper 6, filed June 16th, 2003, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1-20 have been fully considered and are persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 – 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Spencer et al.

Regarding claims 1 – 4, 6, 9 – 11, 13 and 15 – 19:

Spencer et al, figures 2A and 2B teach a system for secure music delivery such that Applicants' step of receiving a content selection reads on step 205, "receive user request", Applicants' step of receiving a device identifier also reads on step 205 "receive...playback device information" and paragraph [0078], Applicants' step of generating a lock message reads on the type/limitations desired by the user to be included in a license; i.e., ability to make a copy, transfer to another device or a timed subscription (claims 2 – 4, 6, 9 – 11, 13 and 14 - 19), and Applicants' step of sending the lock message reads on transmitting a license to the user, paragraph [0082].

Regarding claims 5 and 12:

Applicants' content identifiers read on the inherent identifiers that must be used to identify the audio files requested by the user, to the server. See also, paragraph [0081].

Regarding claims 7 and 14:

Applicants' step of receiving an acceptance reads on the user accepting a particular type license of an audio file that is part of a promotion (reward). See paragraph [0087].

Regarding claim 8:

Applicants' content database reads on element 150, of figure 1 and Applicants' delivery server reads on element 140.

Regarding claim 20:

Applicants' step of unlocking reads on paragraph [0087].

Conclusion

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Sasaki et al, Bean et al, Russell et al, Donald et al and Beetcher et al each teach methods of protecting digital content.
